60th ANNIVERSARY SALE

STARTS TODAY

Self-interest and selfishness are qualities as much to be deplored in stores as in people.

To the Lansburgh Store, Anniversary time has never been an occasion primarily for profit; rather we have viewed it as the opportunity to show our gratitude to the folks who have made this business what it is today.

We've simply taken twelve days off to celebrate our 60th Anniversary—it's YOUR party as well as ours.

FOLK PRAISES
PEACE PATRIOT

Former Missouri Governor
Commends Sacrifice
Of Americans.

"There is a patriotism of peace as well as a patriotism of war," said Gov. Joseph W. Folk, of Missouri, in an address last night at the Temple Baptist Church. Tenth and N streets northwest, declared that "the problem of good government will have been solved" when the meaning of that sentence materializes in the thoughts and actions of the American people.

"The patriotism of war cannot be too highly commended," said Gov. Folk. "But it should not be forgotten that patriotism does not abide alone amid the roar of cannon and the din and clash of arms."

LARGE CLASSES FORCE
G. W. U. TO USE CHARTS

Classes are so large at George Washington University this year that some of the professors have had to resort to charts to keep track of students during recitations.

Under the plan students are assigned to specific seats, which are numbered with big black figures. By means of a chart on his desk the presiding professor can spot the number of a student who is occupying the seat. As some of the classes contain several hundred students, the plan saves much time.

CAR STRIKES AUTO;
WOMAN IS INJURED

Mrs. Hilda M. Russell, of 2349 Eighteenth street northwest, suffered cuts on the right cheek last night when the automobile in which she was riding was struck by a street car of the Washington Railway and Electric Company at Eleventh street and Park road. Mrs. Russell was taken to Garfield Hospital for treatment.

A dead limb from a tree fell on the automobile of S. Schuman, of 1901 M street northwest, last night while the machine was parked in front of his home. The automobile top was slightly damaged.

Asks Wedding License,
Forgets Name of Bride

"I think her name is Powell, but I'll ask her," said Clifton Williams to a marriage license clerk in Evansville, Ind.

He asked his bride and her mother and reported the facts: "Not Powell, but Murphy," explained he, "my mistake; I thought it was Powell."

Henna-hued Bare Legs, Pink-dyed Toes,
Roses Painted on Knees and Daggers
On Calves Make Longchamps Dizzy

Paris, Oct. 3.—The record list of sartorial sensations was sprung today by the feminine contingent at the paddock of the Longchamps race course, which is crowded by the thousands who have come here to watch the running of the prize de l'Arc de Triomphe, the biggest event of the fall season.

Henna-Shaded Suits for "He-Vamps"
Declared "the Berries" by Boosters

Chicago, Oct. 3.—The only shocking thing in the latest styles for men is by inference only. A henna-shaded suit is being exhibited by the Merchant Tailor Designers' Association.

That doesn't sound significant until you remember the increasing popularity of that hue as applied to women's "hair." Now, if this color is being used because necessity is the mother of invention, American wives might well demand another. No doubt they will do the probing themselves every day after hubby gets to wearing the suit.

Tailors announce that this new shade is "the berries." Otherwise the suit is rather tame. Coats will be longer next year than they were this season by at least two inches. There will be no pads in the shoulders. The general effect of the coat will be slimmish, as three buttons will hold it soberly together in front.

Stove-pipe trousers will be unadorned by cuffs. All well-dressed young men will appear lithe with straight fronts.

Suits are going to be large and boxy. The belt will be lashed. It's a relic of the war. Half belts, however, will be permissible in ulsters and ulsterettes.

The Rev. L. M. Powers, rector of the Church of Our Father, Universalist, Thirteenth and L streets northwest, for many years pastor of the First Universalist Church in the United States, at Gloucester, Mass., depicted the origin of the church in America in his morning sermon yesterday.

"Certain that they alone had the truth," Mr. Powers said, "a little group of pilgrims landed on the sandy shores of Cape Cod 200 years ago. They felt themselves the chosen instruments of divine guidance and permitted no heresies. Hence, early New England was a democracy. No one could vote who was not a member of the church of the standing order, the one church tolerated."

"As time went on prosperity increased, schools multiplied, books became more numerous, and a more rational idea of life began to prevail. Finally a group of well-to-do, intelligent people, who believed in a larger faith, absented themselves from the Old Puritan Church and refused to pay taxes for a religion they no longer believed in. The matter was taken up to court and the jury instructed to decide against the Universalists. This they refused to do."

"At a second trial the judges began to see the light. They could no longer deny the right of the individual to choose his own church and the battle was won."

"The philosophy of the Universalist Church commits it to the belief in the worth of all souls before God, a belief that logically implies faith in the worth of all souls before men. It has always been a leader in prison reform. It has always taught that punishment has a purpose and that punishment can do nothing less than improve the punished. It has always insisted that everlasting punishment is senseless punishment."

"It is no accident therefore that the first prominent advocate of prison reform in the United States was a Universalist minister, the Rev. S. H. Spenser. Thomas Mott Osborne is a child of the church and was for many years superintendent of a Universalist Sunday School."

ARREST 6 BELLHOPS
FOR SELLING HOOCH

"Front," commanded Ellis Workman, U. S. deputy marshal, in the lobby of the Louisville, Ky., Old Inn Hotel. A bellboy answered, then another and another until six were there. All were arrested, charged with selling liquor.

MEN'S WEEK

On this occasion we offer a large quantity of high-grade wearables for men

Very Much Below

Previous Prices

These lowered prices are the result of a lowering of wholesale costs on the part of some of our best makers.

It is a significant occasion—we are offering values that are reminders of pre-war days—better by far than we had ourselves anticipated. But in so doing we are carrying out our long established policy of giving our customers the benefit of any favorable changes as they occur in the wholesale markets.

Furthermore: As often as LOWERED WHOLESALE PRICES come to us—no matter in what line—you may be sure that you will be given the advantage of them.

Men are invited to avail themselves fully of these offerings—and to become better acquainted with our STORE FOR MEN. A store conducted as a distinct entity. Its own organization—buyers and salesmen, highly experienced in men's trade and methods. We pride ourselves on its arrangement; on the diversity of its stocks; the fashion correctness of its merchandise; its values; its progressiveness in reflecting the wholesale markets.

Men's Store, First Floor.
